SENATE INSISTS ON FUNDS FOR WILSON DAM

HITE SURRENDERS AT NOON TODAY TO LAWRENCE COUNTY OFFICERS, WOUNDED

Probably Will be Taken to Athens Late Today or Sunday

IS SO CLOSE TO THE KILLING OF LEWIS Was Accompanied by Brother-in-Law—Gives Up to Masterson

Ernest (Orion) Hite, sought by officers in connection with the death of Fawcett Lewis, near Mooresville, in Limestone County surrendered at noon today at Moulton. The Daily was advised this afternoon by long distance from the Lawrence County capital. Hite probably will be taken to Athens late today or Sunday.

Accompanying Hite was his brother-in-law, Walter Terry. The men came in from the Mountain Home section, it was stated and Hite voluntarily gave himself up to Sheriff James Masterson. Mountain Home is about ten miles north of Moulton.

Sheriff Pryor, of Limestone, has been expecting the surrender of Hite since his investigation of the killing of Lewis, in which a still is said to have been involved.

Hite is quoted today as having told Lawrence officials that he moved into a house some time ago and found therein a still. He is declared to have said he told the supposed owners of the outfit it would have to be moved as he could not keep his family there. The request, it is stated, was not complied with.

Hite is also quoted as having said he was informed that unless he complied with certain demands in connection with the house, he would be killed. Hite refused to leave his family. Hite is suffering from a wound in the neck and was given medical attention at Moulton.

It is expected self defense will enter into his plea.

Youthful Bandit With Robbers' Name Fleeing With Fortune From His Bank

FLASH
(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—Dalton captured and all bonds recovered.

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—A 17-year old boy, bearing the name of a once famous pair of bandits, is fleeing today in an automobile from a legion of detectives and police who declare they are closing in on his trail.

The boy is William Dalton, Chicago's greatest bank thief who calmly went to lunch on Thursday, carrying with him $12,000, worth of Liberty bonds from the Northern Trust company where he was employed.

W. A. Webster, superintendent of the Pinkerton agency, which is directing the search on behalf of the bank, declared early today that he expected to have young Dalton in custody by tonight.

A salesman for an automobile firm has identified Dalton as the youth who attempted to purchase a second hand Ford car from him on Thursday night, tendering Liberty bonds in payment. Detective Webster believes Dalton was inspired to "robbery" by reading of the exploits of the Dalton's brothers, famous bandits in the days of Jesse James.

Immunity for the youthful bandit immediately if he surrenders and returns the loot was offered by W. R. Miller, vice president of the Trust Company.

"I am satisfied that if the boy will give himself up and restore the bonds there will be no prosecution," Mr. Miller stated.

"The bank officials are human. They are willing to drop the matter and aid the boy in making a man of himself if he only will give himself up. The only thing we fear is that an older man might have influenced him in this crime."

PRESIDENT-ELECT BRINGS VACATION TO END, RETURNS NORTH ON SUNDAY

Home Folks at Marion Will Entertain Party for Short Time

IN FLORIDA SATURDAY Probable That List of the Cabinet Will Reach Five Today

(International News Service)
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 26.—President-elect Harding brought his Southern vacation to a close today. After more than a month of golfing and fishing and cabinet making the Harding party will leave St. Augustine tomorrow night, going first to Marion to give the home folks a last glimpse of the President-elect and Mrs. Harding.

A day and night will be spent in the "old home town" before moving on for the inaugural ceremonies and four years in Washington. Mr. Harding leaves Florida with four members of his cabinet already designated and an excellent prospect of being five before the hour of departure arrives.

The President-elect's principal engagement today was a conference with Edwin Denby, of Michigan, who is considered a certainty for the secretaryship of the Navy.

TWO REPUBLICS IN CENTRAL AMERICA PREPARE FOR WAR IN LAND DISPUTE

Newspaper Publishers Sensational Report That War May be Declared

Land Was Awarded Costa Rica by Decision of Justice White

(International News Service)
BALBOA, C. Z., Feb. 26.—The Republic of Panama and Costa Rica are at loggerheads today as the result of an award of territory to Costa Rica by an international arbiter, which had been claimed by Panama.

El Diario Macional published a sensational and unconfirmed report that war may be declared. Panama withdrew all the policemen from Panama City and Colon and sent them 200 in number and some volunteers to the scene of the disputed territory.

Firemen have replaced the policemen in the two cities.

The Panama government appealed to the United States canal zone authorities for ammunition, but the request was refused.

The territory in dispute was awarded to Costa Rica by Chief Justice White, of the Supreme court of the United States, who acted as international arbiter. The wife and brother-in-law of President Porras, of Panama both of whom are Costa Ricans by birth, have moved to a hotel in the canal zone as a precautionary measure for their personal safety.

News has been received here that Costa Rican troops had crossed the frontier into the Panamanian province of Chiriqui on the Pacific coast.

The territory in dispute lies in that district.

UNDISMAYED BY HOUSE ACTION, SHOALS FRIENDS STILL BATTLING

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The Senate today insisted upon its amendment to the civil sundry appropriation bill, providing an appropriation of $10,000,000 for the continuation of the Muscle Shoals dam by a vote of 43 to 31. The bill was returned to conference with conferees deadlocked, the House having instructed its conferees to strike the provision from the bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Senator Underwood, Democrat, of Alabama, today moved in the Senate that the conferees, on the part of the Senate, considering the sundry civil appropriation bill insist upon the $10,000,000 appropriation for continuation of the Muscle Shoals nitrate plant dam remaining in the bill.

Senator Underwood's action indicates the friends of the project intend to make another effort to have the plan voted upon the House. Should the Senate insist upon the retention of the appropriation, the House would be forced to have another record vote on the conference report.

Despite the unfavorable action yesterday, friends of the project were still hopeful today that the project will win ultimately.

Of the total House membership 27 Republicans voted in favor of continuation of the development plan and seven Democrats, enough to have changed the result, voted against it. The Democratic proponents of the appropriation were joined in their fight by Representative Mann, who urged the members of his party to cast their ballots in favor of completion of the work.

The fact that the Senate already has gone on record in favor of the appropriation, friends of Muscle Shoals today believed that Senator Underwood would be able to win his fight in that branch of Congress and that the Senate would force the House to ballot again on the item.

RESUME DRILLING ON ENGLISH NO. 1 SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Drilling will be resumed on English Number 1 Sunday afternoon, it was announced today and citizens of Albany and Decatur were invited to witness the operation. A photograph will be taken of the well and the drilling operation. The picture will be sent to oil periodicals throughout the United States and Morgan County will obtain much publicity.

Since drilling was suspended because of the serious illness of Driller Meyers, dirt has caved into the well and the crew today was at work cleaning this debris out. The well now is down to a hard rock surface, some 35 feet in the earth, but the crew expects to pass this obstruction soon.

SOLDIERS TRIALS TO BE DELAYED STATES HORACE WILKINSON

(International News Service)
BIRMINGHAM, Feb. 26.—Acting Assistant Attorney General Horace C. Wilkinson, who returned from Jasper Saturday morning, announced that a criminal docket had been set in Jasper for the two weeks beginning March 7 and that he would be occupied in Montgomery the week of March 21.

This means that the trials of the nine members of Company M, Alabama National Guards, who were indicted by the Walker County grand jury yesterday for the murder of William Baird, may not be held for 30 or 60 days. The grand jury reindicted the nine soldiers and held up for further consideration cases against six other defendants.

Three Ring Circus Plays the Princess

One of the largest audiences in recent years here last night cheered as it said "Hello" to "Hello Alexander" and regretfully said "goodbye!" The starring vehicle of McIntyre and Heath is a three ring circus, with the noted blackface comedians two of the rings. The company supplies the third and it is a dandy ring at that. Unlike many companies containing stars, the McIntyre and Heath support is excellent and "Hello Alexander" came here with an excellent reputation to which last night's performance only added additional lustre.

The nonsense of Alexander (James McIntyre) and Henry Clay Jones, proprietor of the Ever-Ready Colored Minstrels (Thomas K. Heath) provided enough fun for a couple of shows, but Homer Dickinson and Grace Deagon, as Hal and Kitty, were not far behind in their eccentric specialty. The dancing of Ezema Johnson, played by Mabel Elaine, was another feature. In fact the program piled feature upon feature in a maze of specialty numbers.

With two acts, nine scenes and a company of more than fifty, "Hello Alexander" is an unusually large and expensive show to be on tour. The Twin Cities were fortunate in their inclusion on the company's itinerary.

TRAIN IS ROBBED, CLERK WOUNDED

(International News Service)
PITTSBURG, Feb. 26.—The mail car of train 503, Pittsburgh to Waynesburg, on the Pennsylvania lines, was robbed early this morning and railway Mail Clerk McCullough knocked senseless by the bandits. Station employees found McCullough unconscious on the floor of the car 15 minutes before the train was due to leave.

Three pouches containing registered mail and considerable parcel post matter was obtained. The amount of the loot, so far, is unknown.

STEEL BEAR TRAP SET FOR OFFICERS BUT DISCOVERED

(Special to The Daily)
GADSDEN, Ala., Feb. 26.—Across a path into Cherokee county, just across the line from Etowah, a new steel bear trap was found late yesterday afternoon. It is believed the trap was set for prohibition officers. The saw teeth of the trap would easily break a man's leg, it was said. The trap was near the same spot where Sheriff P. W. Kirby was shot and made a cripple for life.

Soldier Bonus Bill Is Reported Out

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The Senate finance committee today reported favorably the soldiers bonus bill. The tax features of the measure, as it passed the House, were eliminated.

The bill, as reported, carries no appropriation and provides no means for raising the money to pay the bonus, this matter being left until the next session of Congress.

The bill provides that all applications must be filed by July 1, 1922 in order that Congress may be able to have data on the number of applicants before taking steps to provide an appropriation payable not earlier than January 1, 1923. An additional 25 cents per day is provided for foreign service. No soldier can receive more than $500 bonus for domestic service or more than $625 bonus for foreign service.

No bonus is to be paid to any commissioned officer above the grade of captain in the army and marine corps, lieutenant in the navy or assistant surgeon in the public health service.

Foreign service periods are to be calculated from the date of embarkation to the date of disembarkation.

COTTON MARKET FLUCTUATES EARLY

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Week end short covering was responsible for an initial advance of 9 to 22 points in cotton this morning, but this improvement, slight as it was, attracted increased Southern and speculative offerings and prices quickly weakened. The early demand came from several of the spot houses, Wall street and up-town firms, this buying, taking probably 20,000 to 25,000 bales from the ring in the first quarter. Conditions affecting the market failed to show improvement.

Coffee Tax Lists Just Disappeared

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 26.—Coffee county's tax book seem to have disappeared forever. All efforts of the state to find the records which were removed from the offices of the tax assessor and collector last week have failed, according to information at the capitol today. The tax commission is now considering plans for the making of supplemental records which will take the place of those stolen.

C. W. Austin, of the state constabulary, conferred with Governor Kilby today after having spent several days in Birmingham. His constables have been making an inquiry into the situation in Coffee county resulting from the disappearance of the books, but insofar as is known they have been unable to get a trace of the missing records.

ALABAMA MAY BE DOWN,
BUT NEVER WILL BE OUT

Our dreams of a great highway system throughout Alabama shattered by a technicality and our hope and the hope of the American farmers for completion of the development at Muscle Shoals, from which the whole nation would have benefitted, temporarily, at least, smothered under partisan politics, Alabama is down—but she will never be out.

In the face of these two sledge hammer blows delivered at progress during the past few weeks, Alabama will shoulder arms again and march on the final victory.

Submission of the $25,000,000 bond amendment and reaffirmation by the people in order that Alabama's highway system may not die—then let us assemble the legislature without delay and comply with every condition necessary for the establishment of the legality of the measure.

Unfortunately our path in the Muscle Shoals matter is not so clear. The defeat in the House Friday of the $10,000,000 appropriation for the dam has placed a strong barrier in the way of completion of this great project.

After paying millions on millions to rush the river development to its present stage, it was a senseless thing for the government to refuse to spend $10,000,000 more to finish the job. Tractor officials who would build a line, purchase equipment and then refuse to buy current to operate the cars would be called maniacs in private business. Perhaps our lower house was suffering from a form of political insanity Friday.

It is to the everlasting shame of the United States House of Representatives that their collective head was so thick they could see no further than the flag of partisanship when they cast their vote on Muscle Shoals, a project of nationwide importance, but it is shameful also that 28 members of that body were either so ignorant of the importance of the bill or were so careless of the people they are sworn to serve that they were absent and not voting in yesterday's balloting. Public servants—bah!

There appears, however, at this time to be one way out of the dilemma resulting from the House action. Should the Senate conferees insist on the retention of the appropriation, the House, perforce, would be required to vote again on the item. So far the Senate conferees have insisted that the appropriation be made.

How long it will take for the lawmakers of America to cease their quibbling over party prejudices and look at the Muscle Shoals project on its merits is a question without an answer. But the cause of Muscle Shoals is right and right is bound to prevail. If not today, then tomorrow. The Daily cannot and will not believe that a cause so manifestly just and of so much benefit to so many people would be allowed to die.

The day is darkest before the dawn. These two defeats have stressed most emphatically that our citizenship must get together from the gulf to the northern line for the upbuilding of Alabama.

Out of our defeats let us pocket our experience and move forward earnestly, prayerfully and steadfastly toward the ultimate development that the Creator, who enriched this great state with so many natural advantages, intended Alabama should reach.

Alabama may be down, but thank Him from whom all blessings flow, Alabama never will be out!

PRESIDENT WILSON TO WAIT
THE VERDICT OF HISTORY

The definite announcement made some days ago that President Wilson would not write a history of the peace conference leaves the field open to the "professional historians." A rather imposing array of volumes bearing the name of Woodrow Wilson might indicate that he is at least no novice in the art of writing history, but the President evidently prefers that someone else tell the story of those trying days and nights when he matched minds with the old world diplomats and, in some of the battles; anyhow, was defeated.

Mr. Wilson's decision is creditable to him and it will also hasten the day when his work for peace will be viewed in the proper perspective. If he attempted to write of the peace conference, no matter how hard he tried to tell a "plain, unvarnished tale," his enemies would accuse him of endeavoring to make out a good case for himself. Disinterested chroniclers will be able to do justice to Mr. Wilson, a vindication for which he can well afford to wait.

In the meantime it is predicted that Robert Lansing's book will not be quite as sensational as we have been led to expect—Birmingham Age-Herald.

With liquor selling over the bar in Cuba, the wonder is that disciples of John Barleycorn have not led an army of invasion into the Queen of the Antilles.

REVOLVING DOOR ETIQUETTE

The etiquette of the revolving door has yet to be standardized. At present there are two schools of opinion on the subject. One holds that when a man and a woman approach a revolving door it is the man's place to go first, pushing the door slowly so as to allow his partner to follow in the next compartment without any effort on her part. The other contends that ladies first still holds sway. It is good manners, these theorists say, for the man to step aside, let the woman start the door revolving, and then jump into the compartment behind her. In this way, it is contended, the man may assume control of the door and guide it until the woman ahead of him is safely out. The bitterest rivalry prevails between the two schools.—From the Argonaut.

From all accounts times will be materially better after March 4th, at least, for the politicians who were "original Harding men."

Why have any criticism for what Congress has done, may do, can do or will do in the future?

The recent bride of Boy-Ed, the German spy during the world war, recently had a photo made in which her ears are uncovered. No wonder, for they doubtless burned a great deal, and needed the cooling effect of the air.

Some say there were 13 men in the hotel room that agreed on Harding for President; some say it was 16; but Harry Dougherty came near enough to it weeks before hand. The future Attorney General said "about 15".

The weather must be warming up, in sympathy with the hot time they will have in Cuba, on election day March 10th.

The weather man's report of blizzards and then more blizzards, does not seem to have silenced the harbingers of spring. And the Butter cups keep blooming and the frogs continue to make merry.

Dr. Herty, the scientist, had declared that poison gas is the greatest menace to the future peace of the world. Did he mean laboratory gas, or the poison kind manufactured in the lungs of human beings.

A TRAIN OF THOUGHTS FOR SABBATH AND OTHER DAYS

By J. E. Blair

We are always ready for "bargain days"; why not reap a few in the market of wisdom? Wisdom advertises her values and has been doing so ever since there was a printed page. The writer of Proverbs even speaks of wisdom as crying her wares in the open street, just as the news boys cry their "Extras".

Proverbs 1-20, "Wisdom crieth without, she uttereth her voice in the streets; she crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates."

Wisdom asks that you take her, now, without money and without price! It was the opposite of wisdom's voice, who has said in a kind of damnable plausible shrewd way, that the way to wisdom, is along the hard road of experience! The Devil, or some one, has got the idea abroad, that experience is the BEST teacher. There was never such teaching! The old adage is: Experience is the dearest, or most expensive teacher!

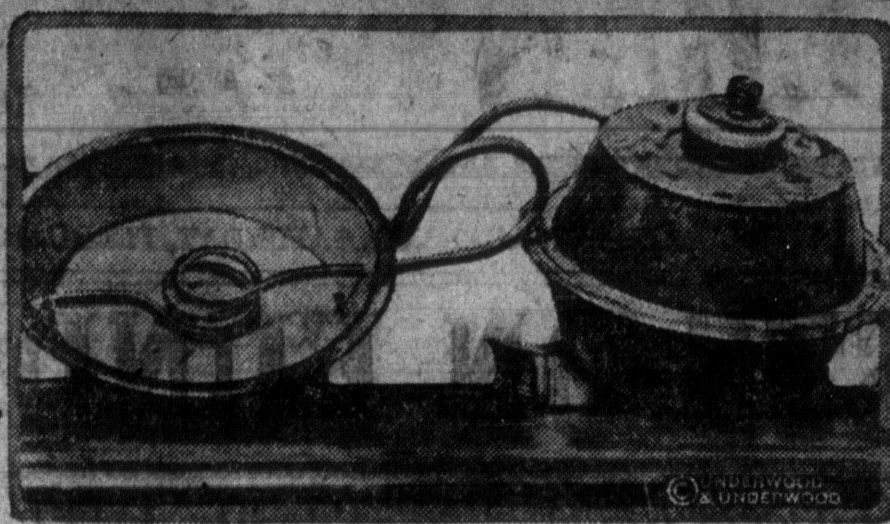

"Dearest" in this instance will not be taken to mean, "loved" or any thing like that—for what is more revolting, unlovely, and positively hateful, than most of our past experiences? Now, if our race had been born differently, instead, as is the case "prone to do evil as the sparks fly upward"—if we thought straight and right, instead of crooked and wrong, there would be no more reason to "get wisdom" or to change our standards of life, than there is to remake our steel scales at the shops, or change, and experiment with the multiplication table! And this idea, that you "must see the (under) world," have your fling and the like in order to be wise, is a lie! But suppose hard and corrupt experience did make one wise; what use can you put wisdom to, when life is used up! Why win after death has laid his hand on you and stopped your heart, and killed your high aspirations? It was a fault that leaned to virtue's side, certainly, but nevertheless a fault and a grievous one, for the thought to prevail that the Savior of the world, not only saves from sin, but also destroys at once, the effects of sin!

As well talk about any debt never being paid, as to say that the wages of sin is not death! Just so surely, as wrong use of your hands may cause them to be cut off, so will the wrong use of your soul faculties destroy your soul's ability to enjoy life! We are promised life, if we repent, but we are not promised the enjoyment of life, if we have mis-learned in the hard school of experience, certainly not, until certain spiritual conditions are met! There must be a "restoring process" and it may last a whole life time, and even extend far into the life beyond the grave. And all times, let us be wise enough to remember who is the Source of this "restoration."

You get the answer on this point of information from the prayer of the Psalmist to the Lord: "Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, and renew a right spirit within me."

It stands to reason, the further you live from a saved condition, and the longer you practice the use of "a wrong spirit within you," the longer and more painful will be the process of soul-restoration. When they recently "restored" the Manse of the First Presbyterian church, a representative of the "Ladies Aid Society," said: "All trace of former occupancy has been removed." Human labor, and the payment of a little money, "restored" the Manse, and the work was accomplished in a little while. But when you start to remove all traces of the former occupancy in your soul by the devils of greed, hate, lust, and every other mean impulse known, it may take thousands of years, instead of a few days, for as you know the devils keep returning to their old abodes and finally human hands can never make the abode of the soul, fit to share with the Holy Spirit, it will take the Divine hand to accomplish that miracle.

HAVE BEER ALWAYS ON "TAP"

Beverage Free to All Members of African Tribe, but Little Drunkenness is Reported.

Among the Madi or Moru tribes of the White Nile in Africa, there exists a form of municipal brewery that would make a great hit among the thirsty in America. A special house is set aside for it, and all the women of the tribe spend part of their time in making beer from millet seed. White men who have tasted it declare it to be a first-rate drink of fine flavor and heady results. The beer is kept in enormous jars, and to each jar is attached a number of spout dippers. The beer is free to anyone or everyone, the only restriction being that it be drunk in the brewery and not with meals. In spite of this freedom the tribe members seldom get drunk.

To make sure their women will stay on as brew-masters and not go running off with other men from nearby tribes, the girls are taken when ten or twelve years old and laid on the ground while a sharp stone is used to pry and knock out the four upper and lower incisors. The resulting effect is anything but beautiful—as the intention was. The clothing of the women consists of a string worn around the waist, and changed only when it gets so dirty that it cannot be seen against the dark skin.—Detroit News.

Pitcairn Island Women.

The women of Pitcairn island, descended from English sailors and Otaheitan mothers, are described as being unusually graceful, as well as vigorous. It is a common sight to see the young women of the island go up and down the steep, rocky shores, carrying barrels of water or other heavy burdens on their shoulders, apparently with as much ease as the young men do.

Superb Coats for Spring

THIS spring has a right to be proud of its coats, for they appear to have reached the apex of duty. To begin with, lovely pile brics, with their velvety surfaces, are retained, and colors are at their best, and best in these soft materials. Some of them are best described as "luscious." Dyers and weavers work in harmony to make these superb clothes and have several seasons' experience behind them. As to outline, the styles may be broadly described as "wrappy" and rippy, resembling mantles and capes. Even in strictly utility coats lines are flowing, may be gathered from the model down at the right of the two pictured here. There are many sleeveless coats with deep capes, and the new models emphasize that women adore vague, graceful lines that drape the figure, more than any other character.

new arrivals that are effectively trimmed with bands of patent leather. The combination is particularly good in beige or gray with black, and such coats are available for almost any sort of wear. Pile fabric coats are lined with very light weight soft silks that do not detract from their suppleness. The handsome garment at the left of the two coats pictured, is a fair example of the mode. It is made of a cloth resembling bolivia, in the deepest and richest of purples, with gray embroidery and gray silk lining. The drapery is so managed as to make a cape at the back. Collars are less ample than they have been and in some models they become short ties or scarfs in which one end slips through a slot in the other.

The Snow Pryor Bible Class held its regular monthly meeting on Monday afternoon, Feb. 21st, at the home of Mrs. C. Beasley and Mrs. Dave Estes, two members of the class. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. C. W. Sarver, Vice-President of the class. The devotional exercises consisted of singing, followed by a most earnest prayer by Mrs. Hertzler. Twenty-four members answered to roll call, while the visitors present were Mrs. Molly Hoffman, Mrs. W. T. Hatcher, Mrs. Memory Peebles, Mrs. Walter Beasley, Mrs. Ada Griffin and Mrs. Murrah. After roll call the study of the life of Abraham was taken up, and each lady present gave a part of the history of this great and faithful man. Mrs. Hoffman, in an excellent talk, concluded the devotional part of the program by calling attention to the leading traits in Abraham's character, his faith his obedience and his devotion. Following the devotional exercises and regular program, we enjoyed a wonderful social hour, during which these delightful hostesses served a lovely salad course, which was enjoyed by every one present. During this hour Mrs. Peebles read an acrostic she had prepared for the hostesses, made up of Proverbs. Miss Prior made a talk to the class in her impressive manner, that acted as a stimulus to the entire class, for better and truer service to the Master—Limestone Democrat.

BIRTH

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Hargitt, Feb. 25, a son, Arthur Hargitt, Jr.

Definition of Suede.

This name, given to a kind of unsmoothed leather, is simply the French word for "swollen." The velvet finish is supposed to have originated in Sweden and it was applied at first to kid and not to calfskin. The process of making it involves buffing on an emery wheel the flesh side of the leather, so as to produce a sort of nap or velvety surface. Some makers of leather adopt a different process, buffing or scouring off the grain side of the leather to produce the nap.

Paper Collar Protects Plants.

A collar of paper has been made for protecting the stems of delicate plants after they have been placed in the ground. These are often attacked by the cut worm, which cuts them off short and kills the plant, but the worm cannot get through the paper collar.

Poker as Glass Cutter.

An ingenious method of cutting glass with a poker is described. Make a tiny notch on the edge of the glass where you want to cut it. Lay the glass over a newspaper, so that you have a printed line as a guide, heat a poker and apply it where the notch is. There is a faint click, and if the hot poker is drawn slowly across, a crack follows. When the opposite edge of the glass is reached it will be found that it is in two separate parts.

STAMP GUM FROM POTATOES

That Vegetable the Foundation of Sticky Substance That is Used on Postage Stamps.

Every time a person ticks a United States postage stamp he gets a taste of a sweet potato. The gum on the stamps comes from that vegetable. All of the gum used on the stamps is mixed at the bureau of engraving and printing, where the stamps are made. It is spread on the sheets after the stamps have been printed.

In a liquid form, the gum is forced up through pipes from the basement, where it is made. These pipes lead to a series of machines consisting of rollers between which the sheets of stamps are fed one at a time. A fine spray of the liquid falls upon the rollers. The sheet with its wet coating of sweet potato mucilage passes from the rollers into a long horizontal flue filled with hot air. When it comes out at the other end of the flue the gum is dry.

There are two kinds of postage mucilage. If one could see the packages of stamps as they come to the postoffice ready to be sold, one would find them labeled, according to season, "summer gum" or "winter gum." The former is much the harder of the two, and was devised to keep the stamps from getting sticky in warm, moist weather.

HAVE THEIR TIME TO FALL

Nature Has Made Provision for the Parting of the Leaves From the Parent Tree.

One of the most beautiful processes in nature is the fall of the leaf. This is not, as is commonly supposed, brought about by the inclement weather of the autumn, says a well-known authority. For the underlying cause one must look deeper.

Soon after the leaf appeared in the spring preparations were being made for its fall. Across the base of the stalk there grew inward a partition of special cells, known to botanists as the "layer of separation." As the season advances these cells become modified and weakened so that a springy cushion is formed. Eventually the mere weight of the leaf may be sufficient to bring about the severance of the organ which the tree no longer requires.

Before the leaf actually falls it surrenders all that it possesses in the way of sugar and more complex stuffs. This passes back into the tree to be stored away in the stems.

Knew Value of Education.

Education is a better safeguard of liberty than a standing army. If we retrench the wages of the schoolmaster we must raise those of the recruiting sergeant.—Edward Everett.

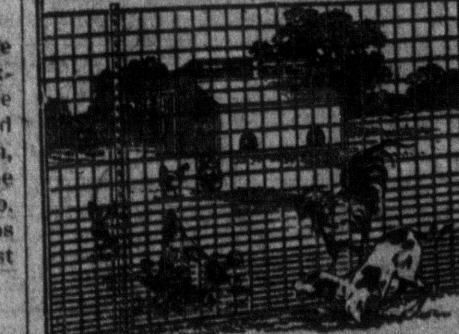

First Enthusiasm Gone. Mariette was delighted when a small brother arrived at her home. However, after some weeks she began to think he was somewhat of a care, and one day when her mother told her to rock his cradle, she looked at him with disdain and remarked, "Oh, you little bothering thing!"

Pumice Should Make Us Bright.

Pumice is formed by the solidification of the foam produced on molten lava by the escape of gases. The inside makeup of high-grade pumice is cellular and the specific gravity of the stone is so low that dry pumice floats in water. The known deposits on dry land are not considerable, although the stone is scattered over large areas of the world's ocean bed.

Italian pumice is the highest grade known to the trade. The volcanic island of Lipari lying off the north coast of Sicily about 40 miles from the Italian mainland, is the seat of the industry.

Pumice is used extensively by automobile and carriage manufacturers, marble workers, lithographers, platers and manufacturers of patent leather and enamel. Crushed to powder, it is used for scouring and polishing. Shipments amounting to 8,800,000 pounds of pumice were made to the United States in the six months from January to June, 1929, by one firm in Lipari.

ZEALOUS OPPONENT OF DYES

Objection Made by English Quaker Was That They Led to Concealment of Dirt.

John Woolman, the Quaker, refused to wear any clothing that had been dyed. He carried his scruples so far that he wore a hat that was of the natural color of the fur, thereby presenting, as one of his biographers remarks, the aspect of a sort of Robinson Crusoe. One of John Woolman's objections to dyes was that they concealed dirt. Traveling often in wet weather through narrow streets, he was frequently distressed by various impurities—especially when his journeys took him to places where cloth had been dyed, so that at sundry times he had to "walk over ground where much of their dyestuffs has drained away." This produced in his mind a great longing "that people might come into cleanness of spirit, cleanness of person and cleanness about their houses and garments." As a further reason against dyes he argued that the spirit that would hide dirt leads to the concealment of anything that may be materially or morally disagreeable, and is therefore contrary to sincerity. He contended that if the money spent on dyeing were devoted to the promotion of cleanliness, much good in every way would result.

Carrier Pigeons in Warfare.

The use of carrier pigeons is very ancient in the Orient and was brought to the attention of Europe at the time of the First crusade, when the Saracens were found to have the birds in regular use for the conveyance of information. The Christian commanders employed falcons to chase and intercept this pigeon post on several occasions, and on others caught the tired birds, substituted misleading messages for those they were carrying, and sent them on to deceive the enemy. The Mohammedan sovereign Nureddin used carrier pigeons for welding together the scattered parts of his empire. Although the use continued, it was not until the Franco-Prussian war of 1870 that pigeons were again of conspicuous public service. During the siege of Paris constant communication was maintained between the besieged city and the outside world by means of the carrier birds. Subsequently the German, French and other European governments established regular pigeon corps and thousands of birds were trained and kept for use as messengers.

Finger Prints of Everyone.

The Argentines have carried the use of finger prints further than perhaps any other nation, writes Harry A. Franck in the Century Magazine. Even school children taking formal examinations must decorate their papers with thumb print as a protection against forgery. Both photograph and "cedule" are produced by a well-trained public staff in well-arranged public offices, in which the prints of all ten fingers of the applicant are filed away under the number inscribed on his "libreto" (identification papers—every citizen of Buenos Aires has a booklet of identification), and where courteous attendants bring him into contact with the lavatory facilities which he requires before again displaying his hands to a pulchritudinous public.

Sultan Who Solicits Washing.

Perhaps one of the most primitive of independent kingdoms is the little island of Johanna. In the Comoro group, the sultan boards any ship that may call there and endeavors to secure the washing for his wives while the prime minister peddles coconuts and bananas.

BARNEY BOGGS

By F. W. Dersheimer, M. D.

Alabama State Board of Health The Health Officer stopped at Barney Boggs' place. Learning that he was out in the fields plowing, he walked out to see him.

"Doc, will the doctors ever learn how to cure heart disease?" asked Barney, after greetings had been exchanged.

"No, Barney, they will not. But they do know how to prevent it."

"Why don't they do it, then? A neighbor of mine died just the other day from it. He had had it for years and tried all sorts of doctors and medicines and none of them either cured it or even stopped it."

Without replying the health officer struck a match and started as if to stick it into a stack of hay beside which they were standing.

"What in—! Have you gone crazy?" he yelled, angrily. "You must be to do that."

"Why," asked the Health Officer, coolly.

"Trying to burn up my hay that way."

"I wasn't trying to do, then?"

"Nothing, much, except fooling with a match. A match can't hurt anything. Anyone can easily put it out."

"But you know they can't put out a burning hay-stack after it gets started."

"I reckon not," admitted the Health Officer.

"And," he added, "it is just the same way with heart disease."

"I don't see any connection between a burning hay-stack and heart disease."

"They are just the same," stated the Health Officer. "In that the time to stop them is before they get started."

"How can you stop heart disease before it gets started? Talk sense, Doc!"

"I am. Much of the heart disease from which so many people suffer is a result of rheumatism. If they would not have heart disease."

"But you can't keep people from getting rheumatism," cried Barney. "You must be off your hand this morning."

"Much of it can be prevented. Did your neighbor have it when he was young?"

"Yes, he did. He was laid up for two or three months with it."

"There you are. That is why he died of heart disease."

"But how can you stop people from getting the rheumatism?" demanded Barney. "That's what I want to know."

"We are trying to do it now," stated the Health Officer. "But some of the people will not believe us and give us no help. They will not take their children to the dentist or doctor and have them fixed up so they will not be likely to get rheumatism. Then, if they do get it, they will say it is an act of Providence. And when they can't work on account of a bad heart they will say it was the almighty that was responsible for the condition and the resulting poverty. In reality, it will be the fault of their parents."

"But what can they do?" shouted the exasperated Barney. "You keep on talking but don't tell me."

FIGURES IN POLISH HISTORY

Countess Potocka, of Obscure Birth, Became Wife of Great Nobleman of That Country.

The Countess Potocka lived obscurely in the days between the first and second partitions of Poland. She was born in 1706, and was the daughter of a Greek shoemaker at Constantinople. Her extraordinary beauty and her poverty brought her to misfortune. A French consul named Boscamp took her away from Constantinople to Poland. There she is said to have married a Russian nobleman, and later to have divorced him.

Then she married Count Stanislaw Felix Potocka, one of the wealthiest noblemen in Europe, a Pole of great influence but slight ability, who is regarded as a traitor who did much to bring ruin to Poland. The countess lived for many years in Berlin, where her beauty created a furore in the ranks of society. She died there in 1822.

Count Potocka was the Rockefeller of Poland. He owned several castles and enormous estates, possessing in the Ukraine alone no less than 3,900,000 acres. When he became of age he married secretly a very attractive cousin. When the story of their elopement was divulged there were terrible scenes. Although he was old enough to be a husband Felix was flogged and his young wife, berated and shunned, finally threw herself into a pond to escape her persecutors.

Curing by Suggestion.

There is nothing new in the attempt to cure disease by means of the mind. A shrewd physician a hundred years ago cured patients with bread pills, and kept his secret. There were probably mental healers in Babylon and Assyria. They are known to have existed in Egypt, Greece and Rome, while the American Indian medicine man was unquestionably an adept in the art of suggestion.

CHOSE POOR PLACE TO REST

Traveler in Spain Not Fully Aware as to Just What Uses Beds Were Sometimes Put.

An American tells of a visit he once made to the town of Yuste, in the northwestern corner of Spain. He had sought rest under discouraging circumstances, after a ride on mule-back over miles of dusty road. While the hostess of the inn was preparing his dinner he proposed to himself to rest upon the bed in the public room.

Nothing could, he says, have been more disappointing. The white bed, after his laborious trip, and without saying a word to the Senora Parano, he threw himself at full length upon it.

Scarcely had he done so when a shriek arose, and the little woman flew at him like a wild creature. She seized him and dragged him off the bed with the strength of two men. He was too much dazed to resist, but retreated before her.

"Oh, Dios mio, Dios mio!" she shouted. "They are ruined—ruined!" Whereupon she tore back the cover of the bed, and to the traveler's amazement disclosed row after row of biscuits! They had been placed there to rise. To rise! Down the center of the rows his weight had flattened them beyond recognition; only at the farthest edge had a few escaped.

Bird's "Love Dance."

On some of the islands of the Pacific, in tropical South America, is found the beautiful bird known as the jacana. It is famous for its so-called love dances, which appear to be executed by the males to excite the admiration of the female birds. When the mating season approaches the jacana will single out its favorite lady and try to win her admiration with all its bewitching maneuvers. In the dance the wings are spread and worked in such a manner that the beautiful colored feathers produce a brilliant effect.

What Caused Queer Sounds.
Complaints made about a woman's club in London because of a noise of thumping on the walls that began at 7:30 every morning brought out the fact that a woman of sixty and a woman of seventy-five, trying to reduce flesh, were competing in high kicking. "I have hit the wall at four and one-half feet," said the sixty-year-old woman, "and have lost two pounds. The old lady of seventy-five has kicked seven inches higher, but I won't be beaten by her."

A Word of Advice

BY THE MAKERS OF MANHATTAN SHIRTS

It is true that everywhere throughout the country there are many men who are never satisfied to wear other than a quality, custom-fitting shirt with a genuine reputation for stability, service and satisfaction.

If you are one of these men, it will pay you in the end to pay the price of a Manhattan Shirt even though it seems higher than you'll pay for a shirt of less prestige. Buy a Manhattan because of its reputation. It's your safeguard in times like these, when quality is uncertain.

Valuable to Science. The telescope gives enlarged views of distant objects, the microscope shows only what is almost in contact with its lens, and by giving a means of making intermediate observations the modifications of the Davon microscope have proven a boon to the naturalist. With great depth of focus and a large field of view, the short focus type, for example, has a working distance of 10 to 18 inches, and magnifies 15 to 38 diameters. An adjustable rubber-tipped rod serves as a rest to support the instrument at the desired height for studying such objects as insects, plants and rocks.

ATHENS NEWS

M. A. Pope was called to Memphis by the sad and sudden death of his brother, Dr. Pope, who was hunting with another brother and by some accident he shot the doctor in the leg. He was taken to Memphis Hospital where he died in three days of blood poison. The family have the sympathy of their Athens friends in this sorrow.

Dr. Wilenson and family will occupy the home of the late Miss Meta Davis.

Mrs. Chandler and daughter, Mrs. Horton, will attend the Inaugural of President-elect Harding while in Washington.

Colonel and Mrs. M. K. Clements leave this week for an extended trip to Atlantic City, then attending the National Superintendent's meeting and they will also be in Washington at the Inaugural ceremonies, and they hope to visit New York, if possible returning in about 10 days.

A teacher's meeting, called by Supt. Clements of Limestone, was well attended Saturday, over 100 teachers answering to roll call. An Association was formed of the numbers of the State Teacher's Association of about seventy-five, this number according to the recent law allowing three delegates to the A. E. A. that meets late in March at Montgomery. Col. Clements, T. Davis and Mrs. Hpie were elected delegates.

Sam White died suddenly Wednesday and was laid away Thursday. He has served for many years as city superintendent of the Light & Water plant. He will be greatly missed, he was faithful, and understood his work well. He leaves a wife and several small children.

Quite a surprise came to Athens Wednesday, when Billy Yarbrough wired back from Pulaski that he was married. He saw Miss Mable Beasley passing his store Wednesday morning and asked if she was going to school she said "yes" and he said "I will drive you out there." His large car was standing near and they got in and the next news was the wire to his father from Pulaski that they were married, and would motor on to Nashville, and return in a few days. They are both well known and popular young people of Athens.

The Study Club held a very interesting meeting Wednesday night discussing quite a good many questions of importance, besides the regular program was rendered.

Athens is to have a "Midgets Wedding" in the near future in which 60 or more tiny tots will take part.

The Good of Life. What is the good of life? A philosopher has answered: "Giving and loving and helping." The happy are the helping, the loving are the living. "He who has a tear for pity and a hand open as day for melting charity," he whose good deeds are without wish for publicity or expectation of gratitude—his is the rarest luxury of soul. Charles Lamb tells us that the keenest pleasure he ever knew was to do a good action by stealth and have it found out by accident.—Humphrey J. Desmond.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT WILL HAVE WEIGHT WITH GOVERNOR ON LEGISLATIVE MEET

Bureau of Public Roads Also to Have Influence on Plans

MANY REQUEST BOND ISSUE BE SUBMITTED

State Must Act to Save $4,000,000 Appropriated by the Government

(By FRED H. GORMLEY)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 26.

Special—Two developments during the next few days are expected to have the greatest influence on Governor Kilby in determining whether or not there will be an extra session of the legislature for the submission of the highway bond issue amendment, which has become imperative as a result of a final decision of the supreme court.

First in importance will be the expression of the federal bureau of public roads, which is holding federal funds approximating four million dollars for release on road work in Alabama as soon as the state is able to match the fund dollar for dollar.

Second will be the sincerity of the enthusiasm in favor of the bond issue which must be shown by the people during the next few days.

Governor Kilby will not call another session of the legislature because he desires it. This is one time when the governor has absolutely no legislation which he considers of sufficient importance to warrant another meeting of the law-makers. If he calls one, it is doubtful that he suggest a single subject of legislation except the re-submission of the bond amendment and the soldiers and sailors poll tax amendment, the latter being affected by the supreme court's decision in the bond case and being defective in the same way.

Solely For Protection. If another session is called it will be solely for the protection of the state's interest in the federal appropriation. Therefore, the federal government's opinion will have much to do with the decision. The federal fund has been held for this state for months already, it is doubtful that it can be retained longer than January 1. When the end is reached, this money must be re-appropriated among the states which are able to match it dollar for dollar.

W. S. Keller, state highway engineer, is now in Washington and it is probable he will attempt to gain some information as to the position of the government on the matter of holding the part set aside for Alabama. It is feared that the government will feel the money cannot be held longer unless the state shows an interest at once in the correction of the error which caused the supreme court to invalidate the authority of the state to match the federal fund.

Depends on People. Even if the government cannot hold the money longer than January 1, Governor Kilby will not feel that he should put the state to the expense of an extra session of the legislature and an extra election on the amendment unless the expressions of the people are so well-defined as to indicate the ratification of the amendment when it is submitted.

Governor Kilby realizes conditions have changed since the amendment was ratified February 16, 1920. Great depression has caused the people to change their own plans for expansion and development and this probably has had some effect on the opinion of the electorate as to state development work. However, Governor Kilby and other state officials do not believe the change has been sufficient to defeat the bond issue. Eight persons voted for the amendment a year ago to every one who voted against it and it is hardly conceivable that four of the every eight who voted for the amendment a year ago would vote against it now, especially since plans have been worked out for road construction in all sections of Alabama as soon as bond buyers were found.

Requests for Sessions. Governor Kilby has received requests for an extra session from all sections of Alabama, but it is not certain that these expressions represent the majority of the voters. Many resolutions were adopted as soon as the supreme court rendered its first decision and before there had been time for the expression of the sentiment of the voters.

Many members of the legislature have assured the governor that they would be willing to come to Montgomery, submit the two amendments and quit, refusing to consider any measures not included in the call. If a majority of the senate and house would make this agreement, the session could be limited to ten or twelve calendar days—in fact it would be possible to end the session after five legislative days on five calendar days—and should the expense be fifteen thousand dollars, the cost would be less than four-tenths of one per cent of the four million dollars which would be saved to the state. This interest rate may be compared with six per cent which many counties are now paying on warrants for road work.
